

The 2011 AT-A-GLANCE GUIDE to 521 CMR, the 2010 ADA Standards, and FHA is here!

Throw away your outdated, 2007 guide, and replace it with the updated 2011 AT-A-GLANCE GUIDE to 521 CMR, the 2010 ADA Standards, and FHA. At last, a single reference that tells you which accessible design standards apply to your project, and which are more stringent. No more leafing through three, large code references. You only need one – the 2011 AT-A-GLANCE!

In one reference, you will find all the accessible design references you need for most commercial, institutional, educational, and multi-family residential projects. The 2011 AT-A-GLANCE GUIDE's new electronic format is easy to search and share within the office.

The new electronic format has many benefits:

- Searchable;
- Easier to update with amendments;
- Easier to identify the different regulatory sources;
- Saves a tree
- Less expensive

The 2011 AT-A-GLANCE GUIDE includes the complete text and illustrations of the Rules and Regulations of the Massachusetts Architectural Access Board (521 CMR). The guide incorporates federal accessible design guidelines when they are more stringent, including:

- US DoJ & DoT Regulations with expanded scoping
- The 2010 ADA Standards for Accessible Design
- Updated Fair Housing Act Design Guidelines for multi-family housing

The 2011 AT-A-GLANCE GUIDE also includes useful tips from Kessler McGuinness & Associates, LLC (KMA), national experts on accessible planning and design for diversity. These tips share interpretations and history that Katherine McGuinness and David Kessler have learned working with these standards for over 30 years.
